Nicholas is an associate in the firm's Greater Milwaukee office and is a member of the Employee Benefits and Business practice groups. He regularly drafts memoranda with legal analysis, corporate reorganization documents, and develops substantive documents for mergers and acquisitions and ESOP transactions.

While in law school, Nicholas was an active volunteer with the Marquette Law School Volunteer Legal Clinic. In that capacity he drafted summaries of attorney advice to share with clients and for clinic records, analyzed driving records to determine steps that clients could take to resolve their legal issues and conducted research and drafted answers to legal questions.
